Doug Dockter expressed appreciation to the Mayor and Council for their leadership and all that has been done in routing the project and developing the consensus route that goes through the Birds of Prey area and for providing comments to the Bureau of Land Management (BLM). The companies continue to support the consensus routes that were developed with the local stakeholders for both the northern and southern routes of the project.

BLM has released their Final Environmental Impact Statement (FEIS) and comments from the public and companies are due on June 28, 2013.

The companies are developing a robust enhancement package for the routes so the BLM can consider them to be located on the Snake River Birds of Prey on the consensus routes that were developed with the communities and stakeholders. Some of the enhancements listed in the package include a lot of habitat restoration. They are looking at assisting and providing administrative and public access points where deemed appropriate within the Birds of Prey, additional educational opportunities and are working with the local BLM to ensure their continued support of the enhancement package.

A copy of Idaho Power comments will be provided to the City.

- B. Water Tower Painting Project – Casey Cobb, Kuna High School Associated Student Body President (Timestamp 00:08:32)

Mikhail Kidd, Vice President of Activities, represented Casey Cobb and explained they would like to paint the water tower in black and gold with a big “K” on it to promote school spirit in the community. They would like to complete the project before school begins in the fall or shortly after. In order to obtain a quote for the project, the dimensions of the water tower are needed.

They would like to sell water bottles under the water tower during Kuna Days to help raise funds. The Class of 2012 has $3,000 they are willing to donate towards the project, fundraiser ideas were discussed and the City was also invited to help out with the costs.

Color options will be presented to the Council for consideration at the next meeting.

Kelli Fairless reported they have seen increases in their ridership and their traditional transportation services are increasing each year. They are improving their technical access for people to get information on public transportation. A brief history and services available through VRT was presented.

A request was made in the amount of $5,679 for consideration in the upcoming budget year. Kuna would receive support from all the planning and development taking place and pays the fair share for what Kuna would receive. Citizens are encouraged to contact VRT to learn of the services available.

6. Old Business:

A. Park & Ride Discussion – Mayor Nelson (Timestamp 00:50:22)

Mayor Nelson recalled previous discussions on a site across from the Senior Center for a park & ride and the possibility of a partnership with the new McDonalds being developed on Deer Flat Road.

If the site near the Senior Center was designated as a mandatory use, then it might completely fill the parking lot taking parking availability away from events at the Senior Center, parks and businesses in the area. If it is not a mandatory use, then it is unknown if very many of the van pools would use it. It is unknown if any of the van pools are pushing for a designated lot.

More research will be done to learn about the needs and options for a Park & Ride Lot.

7. Public Hearings: (7:00 p.m. or as soon thereafter as matters may be heard.)

8. New Business:

New positions have been added to their budget this year for prosecutors to handle the additional court rooms they will be covering. Their office staffs a legal team of over 50 criminal attorneys and 15 civil attorneys. Out of the 4,300 misdemeanor cases opened last year, 307 of those were for Kuna which makes 7.1% of
